10 healthy gadgets for your kitchen

Here are some useful tips from Catherine Saxelby – our consultant nutritionist:

- 1) Non-stick frying pan - Catherine recommends the heavy based pans with the “diamond titanium ceramic” surface.
- 2) Kitchen scales, measuring cups and spoons - you may be surprised at what you tend to tip in to the recipe as compared to what is required to make the recipe’s “per serve” quantity.
- 3) Hand held “stick” blender for pureeing, chopping etc. – great for making your own healthy soups (with no preservatives and additives).
- 4) Steamer – veggies retain more colour and nutrition.
- 5) BRITA water filter jug – Catherine keeps hers in the fridge door so her family and friends always have chilled filtered water available
- 6) Electric health grill – the design with a gentle slope enables fat to run off. Ideal for meats, fish and even some veggies such as char-grilled asparagus spears
- 7) A good heavy wok – a must for those healthy stir-fries, home-made fried rice, curries and soups and anything that needs a deep bowl to cook in.
- 8) A brush - for brushing on oil, which can be more faster and more effective than a spray can.
- 9) Baking paper – saves a big effort in washing up and avoids the need for heavy scrubbing.
- 10) Fat-separating gravy jug – with the spout at the base. When you cook a roast, just pour the pan juices/dripping into it and leave it to settle for a minutes, then toss in a few ice cubes. The fat rises and you can pour off the nice meaty liquid without the fat. Thicken with cornflour or arrowroot and have a savoury, delicious gravy without using gravy powder.

Family holiday driving tips

The key message is "Stop, Revive, Survive". But you can do a lot more to make a journey enjoyable and reduce the tedium.

Make sure you have a good night sleep the night before a long trip. If possible, plan to share the driving.

Rest stops every two hours are very important for children as well as drivers. These help to break a long journey into various stages.

You should plan these driving breaks before you set off so you stop at places where there is room for the kids to run off some energy.

We have listed the links below for the various states for "drive/revive/survive" rest stops, to help you plan ahead.

To make the rest stops more fun, take along a Frisbee or a ball. The kids will let off steam and get some exercise which will make it easier to keep them quiet. Also, kids will be happier as they know there will be another rest stop in two hours and they'll wait for this rather than the destination.

With older children who can read, it's a good idea to give them a map clearly marked with rest stops. If you have the time you can also indicate various landmarks on the map. This way, they'll be able to watch for them, and know the break is getting closer without having to ask you all the time.

Let them know that there are no toilet breaks on expressways and the reason you can't stop. Make sure you have sick bags handy for motion sickness emergencies.

Vary the games and activities in the car. Portable DVD players are popular these days. Audio books are a great idea: play a book CD through the car stereo and all of you can engage in a story that grips or amuses. But if they are happy and quiet with what they are doing, don't disturb them, except for the rest breaks.

Take healthy snacks and keep everyone hydrated with water and of course, take plenty of BRITA filtered water with you for the trip. BRITA Fill & Go sports bottles are great for travelling, you can refill them with fresh tap water at service stations along the way. This will save you heaps in buying drinks. Label each bottle per person and you will know everyone is keeping hydrated. Also take your BRITA jug with you, so you can keep enjoying filtered water when you reach your destination, without the need to buy costly bottled water.

If you intend to drive at night, take their favourite pillow and cuddly toy. They'll feel more at home with the familiar smell and feel.

The gift that keeps giving

BRITA is the ideal gift and is attested to by the thousands of BRITA products that are given each year by people who show they care for the wellbeing of their friends or loved ones – so think BRITA this Christmas and make a difference.

Look out for packs where you can buy 2 jugs and save $20 off the regular retail price. That's 2 gifts in one! Also included in each of these jug boxes is a mygreenbottle, which is a durable bottle to refill at home and take out with you.

BRITA cares about the environment and has partnered with Greening Australia and will seed a tree, for every BRITA Water filter system received as a gift, through Greening Australia's "River Recovery Tree Planting Program".

As a further benefit to our planet, if you visit www.mygreenbottle.com.au and pledge to change your bottled water drinking habits, we will seed another tree!

Recipe of the month

Barbecued king prawns

Ingredients

16 whole extra large uncooked king prawns
2 tablespoons extra virgin olive oil
2 tablespoons lemon juice
freshly ground black pepper

marinade

2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
3 cloves garlic, peeled
1 teaspoon grated fresh ginger
1 teaspoon dried chilli flakes
1 tablespoon chopped fresh oregano
1 tablespoon chopped fresh sage
1 tablespoon chopped fresh coriander
1 teaspoon sea salt flakes
1/3 cup extra virgin olive oil

Method

Leaving the shells on the prawns, cut them in half lengthways.

Marinade

Photography: Brett Stevens/Styling:
Yael Grinham

Place all the ingredients, except the oil, in a mortar and crush with a pestle to a coarse paste. Mix in the oil.

Place prawns in a large bowl and pour over the Marinade; refrigerate for 1 hour.

Preheat the barbecue. Cook the prawns on the barbecue for 1 minute, then turn over. Cook a further minute or until they're just changed colour and are cooked through. Remove from the barbecue and pile onto a serving platter.

Drizzle with oil and juice and give a generous grind of fresh pepper before serving.

Add a healthy salad and you have a great summer meal.

Ask Catherine

Do you have a question for Catherine? Simply click here to email Catherine.

Carob vs chocolate

Q: What is the difference between carob and chocolate and if carob is better for you.

A: Carob powder comes from the pod (seed) of the carob tree and has a chocolate-like flavour that has been used as a substitute for chocolate for years and is quite nutritious. It is lower in fat and sugar than cocoa powder, but has none of the caffeine of chocolate. There is no real difference in the amount of fat or sugar or kilojoules compared to chocolate.

What is in food?

Q: I'm trying to find a list of foods that will show me the amount of protein, fat and carbohydrates in each food. Where do I go to get this information?

A: A book called "Food For Health A Guide to Good Nutrition with Nutrient Values for 650 Australian Foods" written by Ruth English and Janine Lewis is available from the Government bookshop in your state, or you may find it in your local library.

Nutraceutical

Q: I've seen the word "nutraceutical" mentioned - what is it?

A: An ingredient (not a food) which has therapeutic benefits. Examples are vitamins, minerals and antioxidants that have protective effect against cancer, high blood pressure, high cholesterol, etc.

Your say

Each month we reproduce in this newsletter a few of the wonderful comments we receive from the ever expanding family of BRITA users. Please write in and share your good experiences, ideas, recipes or suggestions.

"I bought the Fill & Go bottle because I just recently had a baby and breastfeeding makes one really, really thirsty and I couldn't take the taste of tap water anymore. I noticed the difference instantly! I also think it is a great incentive to save money and the environment by not purchasing bottled water when out and about!"

A. Thickett, NSW

"The taste is great! It's easy and convenient to use. Much less expensive than bottled water and I don't have any more health concerns over the nasties in the unfiltered water. BRITA is the brand for me!"

C. Harvey, Qld

"I work as an international flight attendant and visit many countries. With the BRITA Sports Bottle, I am able to always ensure the water I drink tastes good and encourages me to replenish water loss due to work. Thank you!"

S. Heng, Vic

"For 38 years I've drank tap water and just thought the taste was pretty average, but drank it anyway. Since drinking BRITA Water I now know what I've been missing. It tasted strange at first because I was waiting for the chemical after taste, now I love it because everything tastes better. Vegies are nicer, tea is like WOW and the floatie things are gone from my kettle. Cheers BRITA."
